EDITORIAL.

Already we are nearing the middle of the year. As usual, the losses from our ranks were serious, and we began the year with many misgivings; but once more the gaps are filled and all are working well—the line advances with the old swing. Our best wishes go with those who have gone forth to the larger world of University or business—or war. We know that our good name is safe with them. We shall soon be following them; but meanwhile the school calls us to class room and playing field, and we are doing our best to answer the call.

This magazine is a record of some of the phases of our school life. Those who know us best can best fill in the details of the picture and recognise that school life is more or less the same—year in, year out—with different generations of boys. Yet there is eternal freshness about the old games, the old jokes, even the old tasks. Amongst these surroundings the flowers of manliness and truth have grown before; we believe that they still are budding.

If this number should fall—as we trust it will—into the hands of some of our Old Boys at the Front,— we HEADMASTER'S REPORT FOR 1916.

Your Excellency, Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen,

The year 1916, so eventful in the outside world, has, with us, not differed conspicuously from its predecessors. One cannot sum up in figures or in terms of examination results the total of the year's work; but we have striven after the same ideals as of old, and our methods have not greatly changed. There have been failures as well as successes, but, on the whole, I believe that I can claim that the good tone of the School still lives. Much genuine mental work has been done; and at the same time there has been a healthy attitude towards duty, honour and right. The growth of character, which is our main objective, has not been absent.

School life, viewed from without, may have many sides; but it must be remembered that the boy is one, whether he works or plays. We are not satisfied, therefore, unless we can capture the whole boy, body and soul, as well as mind. I must be forgiven for referring to many other things besides class-work.

The number on the roll has averaged 126 for the year, an increase of 4. The number of boarders has again made a record by reaching 57 during the last term. The accommodation, especially in the dining-room, has been strained to the utmost. We have now probably reached the high-water mark, since we are now due to lose the first batch of two years scholars together with the last of the old scholars. The list, which is in your hands, shows that our candidates in last year's public examinations very creditably upheld the School's reputation. All the Seniors passed and most of the Juniors. Amongst the latter, Pardoe, as was expected, greatly distinguished himself, and, in a normal year, would have won the Byrnes Medal. His 8 Merits in ten passes constitute a better record than that of Flewell-Smith who won the medal for us the previous year. Several others acquitted themselves very well, and it is disappointing that more were not able to stay with us till the Senior. They easily obtained positions in the Government service and elsewhere, and we hope and believe that they will serve their country well. But their leaving means a serious loss to us and probably some ultimate loss to them.

In this year's examination we have been represented by 4 Seniors and 51 Juniors. Fifteen of the latter are scholarship boys from 1914, 23 from 1915. The 1915 boys have had only two years to prepare, but are eligible for a further scholarship of two years if they qualify in certain subjects. About 20 have taken these subjects, but I shall be surprised if as many as 10 win the continuation, though probably the majority should pass the Junior, which requires only 5 subjects. I am convinced that for any but the exceptional boy, the term of two years is too short for the attainment of the standard which we have been accustomed to in any wide range of subjects. The lack of time is specially felt in languages. It is very hard for the average scholarship boy chosen on the 50 per cent. principle to reach maturity in both Latin and French, and in many cases even in one of these. The tendency must be therefore to cut out at least one language. This is perhaps not serious if it can be restricted to the weaker boys; but one has difficulty in preventing the lazy but able scholar from dropping the burden which he might very well carry. If, however, the standard required is so adjusted that a sufficient number may remain at school for a further term of two years, I shall heartily approve of the new scheme. It will be in the best interest of culture that those who do not make good should be weeded out, so that we may concentrate on the fittest. For the benefit of the three years candidates the Trustees intend to continue this year their practice of granting extension scholarships to deserving boys. Several of the last-mentioned scholars are very able boys, and I hope that they may continue their education right on to the University. The keenness shown by the candidates in general has been very pleasing. They have worked early and late, and needed no urging except to stop when they had done enough.

The Sixth Form has been on the whole satisfactory. The upper division consists of four boys, all of whom have sat for the Senior. They have well upheld the traditions of the Sixth by being good students, and yet not allowing the claims of work to prevent them from setting a high standard of public spirit, and doing their share towards promoting good discipline and healthy tone. I cannot refrain from making special mention of McCulloch. Besides being Dux, with first-class honours in every subject but one, he has had time to be a good captain of almost every team and a leading performer in all. Knowing all that it means to succeed in leading school teams, I say with confidence that there is in such a performance not only an index of character, but also a promise of high social service in the years to come. I quite expect McCulloch to win his way to the University, and to do well there. He has my thanks for work which has been of high value to his school as well as to himself.

For the purpose of awarding prizes three divisions have been recognised in Form V. The Form Prize amongst the third year scholars is won by R. L. Hall, after a close contest with H. W. Kerr and H. Burton. The excellence of the work done is indicated by the fact that we are compelled to give nine prizes. The best of the two years scholars worked with their Seniors all the year; amongst these W. G. Henderson is easily first, while A. K. Thomson leads the Lower Division.

The Fourth Form includes all those who have begun with us this year, including 33 scholarship boys. About a dozen of these are very satisfactory and show great promise. A few are very unsatisfactory, whilst the rest range from fairly good to fairly bad. There are two divisions and the ground covered has been well up to standard.

During the first term of the year we had a full staff through the accession of Mr. G. S. Webb, M.A., an old boy of our own. Mr. Webb, however, left us at Easter, and we were quite unable to fill his place until the beginning of August. This period was a very trying one, especially as there was no Resident Master. Since August we have had the help of Mr. T. Edwards, previously Science Master at Petersham Junior Technical School, Sydney. We have, therefore, been able to do better justice to our classes, especially in Science.

Concerning the School equipment there is not much to be said. The Science Department has been of great service, and the Trustees are contemplating adding to the physical apparatus with a view to probable increase in the number taking Physics for the Senior. The subject is very interesting to the boys who are of a mathematical or mechanical turn of mind; it is also essential for engineering.

There has been some difficulty in housing the increased number in the School, but the worst of the congestion is, probably, over. Our building is a fine one, and has served its purpose excellently for fifty-four years. But I think the time is coming when we ought to have more up-to-date rooms, planned with more consideration of the climate, and the demands of correct lighting and ventilation. I know that it is entirely a matter of funds. But we spend large sums, and rightly so, on hospitals, gaols, and lunatic asylums. Surely money spent on making equally good provision for the environment of the healthy growing boys would be a much better investment.

The out-door side of school life has been developed with the usual enthusiasm. The large majority have taken their share of games, and have gained by doing so in body and mind. Two football teams have competed regularly in Brisbane against able opponents. The first team won the premiership in its grade—a result which was largely due to the good coaching of Douglas Harding, who was captain of last year's team, and who gave up many afternoons to help his old school-mates. In the Chelmsford Cup competitions we have had some very hard battles, but very little success. Toowoomba defeated us at football with a good margin. Brisbane also, but after a big fight. In cricket we also suffered a double defeat. In tennis we defeated Toowoomba, but lost to Brisbane. In athletics Toowoomba and Brisbane tied for first with 19 points, whilst we scored 17, though in junior events, which do not count, we won everything easily. Cadet drill was carried out faithfully during the first three terms. but, owing to special circumstances in the military world, it was discontinued during the last term; it seems that we must now make up the time lost through no fault of ours. The junior cadets have been able to fulfil all requirements. The Literary Society and the Singing Class have both done useful work. The School Magazine has appeared twice, and though like most magazines, it has much difficulty in paying its way, it justifies its existence as a valuable record, and even more as providing scope for thought and literary effort on the part of the best boys.

I might sum up by saying that we have tried to keep all boys busy all the time, and to use their enthusiasm to build up their characters and to fight off the worst dangers of youth. In the year 1916 there is good reason to value efficiency, but there is still room for character and conscience. We hope to turn out men with enthusiasm as well as ideas, who will champion good causes, who will work for the work's sake, placing duty higher than profit. That this has been done in the past is in some measure proved by the honour roll which is to be unveiled to-day. The men whose names appear there learnt well the lesson of duty, and we are still trying to teach the same lesson.

It is very fitting that some Old Boys should be doing honour to the memory of Mr. Donald Cameron, who was Headmaster for 26 years. No one can estimate the value of his work for the country; the best monument to him is the men whom he influenced. The tablet will serve to remind us who follow of how much we of the present day owe to those who well and truly laid the foundations on which we build, and will stir us to follow his example.

It only remains for me to thank the Trustees for their sympathetic management, and the staff for their loyal help, and to wish you all a good holiday and a bright New Year.

LITERARY SOCIETY.

We have now entered into the eighth year of the existence of this Society. Since its formation it has been well supported by masters and scholars alike, and interest in it has never waned. Lectures and addresses have never been easy to obtain, and accordingly debates and readings have been more prominent. A noticeable and regrettable feature is the small number of day-boys who attend. Inclement weather and sudden, though short, illnesses are often offered as excuses. Nevertheless, those day-boys who do attend regularly show great interest in the Society and its doings, many new speakers in the last few meetings having made their maiden speeches.

We commenced the year with a meeting in the School Hall on Saturday evening, March 15th, 1917, with a good attendance. The following new members were proposed and unanimously elected:—Williams, Wilson, Macartney, Chambers, Fewtrell, Tate, Tambling, Garsden, Gibson, Pryce, Ball and Taylor.

The Meeting then took the form of a debate, the subjects and speakers being as under:—

(1) Ought horse-racing to be abolished?: Cameron, George, Hall T., Hooper, Marshall, and Winks urged its abolition, while Calder, Fisher, Pettigrew, Dunshea, and Burton extolled our national sport. Good speeches were delivered on both sides, and on the question going to the meeting, against won.

(2) Ought women to be admitted to the professions of medicine and law. This question of paramount present-day importance was discussed in a very lively manner by both sides. Various learned facts concerning the relative measurements and weights of the average male and female brain gave a semblance of erudition to the debate, which, however, was immediately dispelled when the discussion focussed on surgical operations, one speaker vehemently asserting that female doctors would certainly in their embarrassment drop in a lump of cotton wool or a knife or two before sewing up an incision. Burton, Winks, Marshall, Hall T., and Calder spoke in favour of the question, and Hall R., Dunshea, Brookes and Cameron against. A vote being taken, the decision favoured the ladies. After a very entertaining and highly amusing evening, the meeting dispersed at 9.25 p.m.

The next meeting was held on Saturday, April 7th, 1917. The three questions debated were as under:

(1) Can a man get rich honestly?: Hall, T., and Hooper, C., spoke for, and Calder and Warry against the question.

(2) Are ghosts real or imaginary?: Cameron D., and Hooper C., pooh-poohed the idea of spooks in somewhat forceful and sarcastic language, while Frank gave us a very amusing and exceedingly ingenious metaphysical address in support. But as no one would venture to support him, he was left "alone in his glory."

(3) Which is happier, the barbarian or the civilised man?: Pettigrew and Calder expounded the glories of a savage existence, and were opposed by Dunshea and Cameron, who found the civilised life, full of far more comforts than it is the lot of ordinary mortals to meet.

The chairman, in view of the equality of the arguments, reserved his decision, and the meeting broke up at 9.30 p.m.

SCHOOL NOTES.

The annual medical examination for the militia was held at the Drill Sheds one night last quarter. The following members of the Cadet Corps were examined and passed as fit: Hall, Donaldson, Marshall and George. The two "militia veterans" wish to express the hope that these recruits will uphold the glorious traditions of the militia squad and not be too conspicuous at the coming encampments. "Buff" informs us that he intends to join the engineers. We deplore his lack of taste and hope that he will join us a fully-fledged infantry recruit.

The Literary Society's concert, held at the end of last year, was particularly successful. The evening was devoted to musical items rendered by the School Choir, after which prizes won at the annual sports were distributed by Mr. S. Harding. The prize-winners were afterwards entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Kerr at supper and desire to thank them for their kindness.

A few Saturdays ago cadets of the 1899 and 1900 quotas journeyed to Redbank to go through the annual musketry course prescribed by the Defence authorities. Several good results were obtained.

This year we were lucky in losing only one of last year's prefects. We wish to congratulate Cameron on being raised to the dignity and feel confident that he will ably perform the duties belonging to the position.

"Fairy" insists on making himself obnoxious in the old science room by his inane and giggling utterances. In this abode of the muses "Fairy" contrives to eke out an existence, but judging by his haunted appearance, it would appear that his days are numbered. "George" and Pender are also not unknown to us. The former still insists on making unreasonable remarks with the result that he is very often gently deposited outside.

The tennis four have made several excursions to the Girls' Grammar School of late. From the frequency of these visits, we are beginning to wonder whether "Sam" has met his match. Perhaps "Nevil," too, is not unaffected. But let us ascribe it to a desire for practice or an attempt to displace the fiend of ennui which oppresses their souls.

Alas, the world has become sophisticated. Even the "newies" have been affected by the spirit of change which now appears to pervade everything. The old-time customs of "ducking," "racing," "climbing the greasy pole," "singing," have disappeared. The initiation ceremonies were concluded rather preemptorily by sympathetic masters, thus promoting a spirit of independence among the new boys.

We take this opportunity of congratulating Mr. Edwards on his engagement to Miss Blaine.

At the beginning of the year a call was made for subscriptions to the Y.M.C.A. This was very liberally responded to by both masters and boys.

The prefects have been assigned a new room in the precincts of the library. Several days were spent in decorating the walls with martial and soul-stirring pictures, doubtless some of Sam's choice. These lend the room quite an imposing appearance, and with three chairs, couch and table, it lacks nothing. But, perhaps the greatest ornament is the prefects themselves.

By a very ingenious system of "paper gangs" the School buildings and quadrangle are kept comparatively free from food remnants dropped by wasteful dayboys. The plan works very well, incidentally promoting the development of the art of detection. The duty of the gang members is to detect others guilty of dropping papers, etc., and then to impose their tasks on the detected ones.

"Gart" has taken up the science of the apiarist. Evidently the "apes" are difficult to manage, as he appeared one morning after a few days' absence decidedly the worse for wear. "Buff" also seems to know something of the subject. Perhaps they explain the fact that "Buff's" horse is always refractory on Monday or the fact that he often misses the train on Tuesday.

The Junior Cadets are a prominent feature of the landscape during these times of warlike preparation. Recently the whole school was disturbed by the sounds of martial music and firm military footsteps. On investigation it proved to be the infants leg-raising and knee-bending while one veteran vehemently beat the drum.

Under slight pressure boys are urged to take advantage of Wednesday afternoons to play football. Those who still persist in their lazy habits are subjected to military discipline for an hour or so. The system is having the desired effect and we think that those who still prefer to drill are altogether incorrigible.

BYRNES AND THALLON MEDALS.

The Junior of 1916 was marked for the School by the success of R. L. Hall, in gaining the Byrnes Medal, he being the second Ipswich boy to gain this honour. His pass consisted of eight M's and two P's.

The other winner of the medal was Flewell-Smith, in 1914, with a pass of eight M's and one P.

The Byrnes Medal is awarded to the most successful candidate in the Junior Examination, and is designed to perpetuate the memory of Thomas Joseph Byrnes, formerly Premier and Attorney-General of Queensland. The fund for its support was raised by popular subscription shortly after the death of that noted statesman.

Rob. Hall is to be congratulated on winning this high honour for himself and the School.

J. R. L. Cooper is also to be congratulated on having gained the first of the Thallon Memorial Medals for 1916. This medal is confined to railway men's boys and girls. The two gentlemen who made the presentation expressed the hope that they would find it necessary to come back to the school again next year. We strongly sympathise with that hope. We are grateful to them for taking sufficient interest to visit us to present the medal in person.

BOARDERS' NOTES.

Owing to the late publication of the scholarship lists, it did not seem as if we were to receive many new boarders. However, when all had arrived they numbered about a dozen, a number not as large as former years. With the exception of two Western representatives, the "newies" are small of stature and are not of so forward a nature as last year's were.

As a result of the small number of performers, the "newies" celebrations were not up to the usual standard. One of their number favoured us with "rag-time," including "Ragtime Wedding," and "Way Down in Tennessee." The latter song has become a favourite since, and is usually heard in the bathroom after football practice.

This year we are without the cheering presence of Miss Blaine, who has departed from us to experience life on the Downs. The vacancy so caused has been filled by Mrs. Kerr, who has very capably looked after the health of the boarders.

Shortly before the end of last year the not unexpected announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Blaine to Mr. Edwards. We offer them our heartiest congratulations.

On the last day of the school year, Mr. Kerr, on behalf of the boarders, presented Miss Blaine with a gold bangle and silver jewel box, as a mark of their esteem. Bernard Flewell-Smith, who was spending a few days' with us, replied on behalf of Miss Blaine.

Matron's old sitting room has been converted into a prefect's room. Within its sacred precincts the rabble dare not penetrate, and the prefects are now enabled to "study" in peace.

At Easter we lost the cheerful countenance of "Tabby," who left us to enter upon the excitement of a bank clerk's life. The school will miss him greatly in sport, as he was an enthusiastic member of every team. However, we hope that he will pay us frequent visits.

There is evidently some truth in the good old saying, "Music Hath Charms," for the orchestra at Martoo's exercises a great influence on at least one of our number. The usual contingent of boarders wended its way to Martoo's to see "A Daughter of the Gods," which was very much appreciated.

On a recent Saturday morning portions of new uniforms, trousers and boots, were issued to the cadets. On their return to school, the younger members immediately tried on their equipment. Some queer sights are anticipated at the first parade. Already the "new-ies" have been commandeered, as orderlies, especially by the inmates of Big Dorm.

For the first few weeks the Lower Sixth boarders were allowed to "prep." in the library. One night, however, they were holding high feast, when in walked the Head and summarily ejected them. They now "prep." in the lower part of the big school room, and the prefects have comparative quiet.

As we received May 24th for the Ipswich Show, most of the boarders availed themselves of visiting the Show for various purposes. The younger members must have lost their skill at "Hoop-la," as very few trophies were brought back. Several of those who remained behind were seized with a mania for having their photos taken. As a result, several of our amateur photographers, notably "Fat," were doing a thriving business.

Our indefatigable second-lieutenant now spends his Friday's hunting round for an orderly to clean his "Sam Brown." Now that he wears a tunic and cap, he lends quite an air of distinction to the company. The company has also come into the possession of a drummer, and presents a very soldierly appearance as he marches to the sports field to the stirring strains of the bugle and the beat of the drum.

The boarder prefects live in constant peril of their lives owing to the frequent fits of madness of "Nev." Some of his most harmless escapades are chasing imaginary rats and playing billiards with footballs, in which he was assisted by "Tom." The latter has lately become a great correspondent, and lengthy epistles, nothing under eight pages, are despatched to unknown destinations. Poor youth! how we pity thee!

From the frequent remarks of certain of the boarders, there appears to be a scarcity of combs. The dwellers in Big Dorm, have also been accused of being the cause of the mysterious disappearance of tooth paste, but with what justice it is hard to say.

At various times during the year, we received visits from Chauvel, Fleming, Bell and Flewell-Smith. The last-mentioned recently enlisted and is now in camp. "Taddy," gave us some very interesting accounts of his experiences "out West," and seems to have enjoyed himself greatly.

Some of the younger members have overcome their shyness and joined the dancing class. Judging from the care some of them take with their dress, there must be some attraction. Otherwise why does "Buller" spend so much time before the looking glass hunting for pimples? We should also welcome the explanation of "Nugget" spending so much time watching the passers-by on Sunday afternoons.

The piano is still made groan under the fingering of "Les.," who has become the accompanist of the boarders. Led by the stentorian voice of "Hulk," and the piping voice of "Nugget," some of the boarders frequently burst into "melody," which is much "appreciated" by everybody!!!

FOOTBALL (G.A.F.)

The prospects for the season are certainly fair, but that is all one can say just at present. Last year, we started with only four members from the 1st XV. of the preceding season, but nevertheless managed to come through premiers suffering one defeat. This year we have six of last year's team but whereas in 1916 there was considerable material to work with, the majority of the 2nd XV. having come back, this season we have had to draw from the Thirds. Despite this, however, our preliminary match with Brisbane Grammar B. Team, which we won 25 to 6, evidences that we have nothing to fear in our grade.

Doug. Harding, who coached last year's teams, has kindly consented to do so again. It is to be hoped he will again be able to express himself satisfied with the School's footballers, and that they in their turn will appreciate the time given them by him. Fixtures for both our teams have been drawn up. It was decided to remain in the same grades as last year. So far the First Fifteen have won every match, defeating Gregory Terrace by 18 to nil; Nudgee by 14 to 9, and Brisbane Grammar (fixture match) 31 to nil. The second fifteen were defeated by Nudgee A, a heavier team, after a hard tussle. However, they held their own against St. Lawrence, last year's premiers a draw (3 all) being played, and defeated Brisbane Grammar by 3 to nil. Accounts of the above matches are given below.

On going to press, results of two other grade matches have been made available. In the second round of fixtures, the Firsts (although weakened considerably by several members playing in the All School's Match v. Varsity) defeated Gregory Terrace by 14 to 3, and B.G.S. 2nd xv., by 14 to nil. But above all we gained a decisive victory over Toowoomba Grammar School in the Annual Chelmsford Cup match, winning by 25 to 6.

SCHOOL XV. v. BRISBANE GRAMMAR.

This match, a preliminary to the grade fixtures, was played on the Grammar turf and resulted in a rather easy win for Ipswich. We won the toss and had the advantage of a slight wind for the first half. Continual scrumming in which Ipswich always secured the ball, was a feature of the first half. Owing, however, to the inexperience of our half and five-eighths, both new men, the ball did not always reach the wings. In the first rush the ball travelled out to Pettigrew, who beat the opposing wing and scored. Fisher added the extras. Even play then ruled for a time, but Ipswich forwards working well, set their backs in motion at every opportunity. Bad handling in the backs spoilt many good rushes and chances were given and lost, solely owing to fumbling. From a scrum near half-way the ball circulated and Pettigrew scored again; the try was unconverted. Passing and dribbling rushes by Ipswich forwards were stopped by good work of Brisbane backs. From a penalty in Brisbane's 25 Fisher drop-kicked a goal. Shortly before half-time the three-quarters again got going, and Scott scored in the corner. Score 14 nil in favour of Ipswich. A few minutes after resuming the play, Ipswich were penalised for off side play and Brisbane's kick at goal was successful. Ipswich pressed again, and the backs combining better, Pettigrew ran strongly along the line and scored in the corner. Shortly after, Williams outpacing the opposing backs, registered another try. George converted, making the score 22 to 3. From another penalty in front of our posts, Brisbane kicked a goal. Ipswich again pressed and the backs, who were superior to Brisbane's in pace and combination, carried the ball up field, Pettigrew grounding his fourth try. Full time came with Ipswich easy winners by 25 to 6.

I.G.S. v. GREGORY TERRACE.

Terrace journeyed to Ipswich and the match was played on our ground at 2.30 p.m. From the kick off, Ipswich, running up, carried the ball into 'Terraces' 25 and close play ensued. Several attempts were made to push over, but each failed, Brothers at last relieving with a good kick down the line. From the line out the forwards knocked back and the ball travelled out to Pettigrew, who scored. Fisher converted. Terrace then pressed hard, forcing Ipswich to save several times in succession. George at last relieved with a good line kick. Ipswich forwards lined out well and heeled cleanly in the scrums, but generally to no avail as the half, Foote B., by running back lost valuable ground and put the other backs out of position. Fumbling in the three-quarter line again gave Terrace a chance, and they pressed us to our 25. Burton, Foote A. J., and Hunt tackled well, and Foote J., relieved with a good line. Just before half-time Terrace made several attempts at goal, but were not successful. Ipswich, running down, forced matters immediately, and the ball travelled out to Scott, who ran well and touched down. Shortly after the backs again passing well, sent to Scott to Fisher, who scored in the corner. George's kick narrowly missed. Terrace freshened up and even play about the half-way line took place. Pettigrew put in some good runs but was "gravelled" each time, chiefly owing to his centre hanging on too long or running into the push. Ipswich again carried the ball into opponents' territory; Mooney, for Terrace, relieved, and George fielding the ball seized an opening and dropped a fine field goal. The team as a whole played better than the previous Saturday, but bad handling proved the stumbling block. Final scores were 18 to nil in our favour.

I.G.S. v. NUDGEE.

So far this match has proved the closest and most exciting, the two teams being very even, in both divisions forwards and backs. It may be mentioned here that the teams constituting B Grade are all very even. Brisbane Grammar backs are certainly lighter than ours, but their forwards are, if anything, heavier. Gregory Terrace on the whole may be slightly lighter. Ipswich won the toss from Nudgee and from the start went into it. At the very outset our backs started a fine rush, but Nudgee backs tackled well and Pettigrew was grassed after a good run. Ipswich continued to press throughout and from a scrum in Nudgee 25, Fisher picked up and scored. He converted the try. Nudgee pressed but good kicking by George relieved the situation, and Ipswich forwards again took the ball to opponent's 25. Here several scrums ensued, in which Ipswich pack obtained the ball, but it was not cleared. Even play about the half-way line then took place and from a line out the half set the ball in motion, and Scott, on the left wing, outpaced the opposing backs and scored. From the kick off Nudgee forwards followed hard and ruck work on our 25 line took place. Two or three forwards who had been keeping too much in the open, went well into this, and the ball again went to Nudgee's end. Nudgee's full back relieved with a good line. Just before half-time, one of Nudgee's backs dropped a field goal, making scores Ipswich 8, Nudgee 4. On resuming, Nudgee backs combined well and made several fine rushes, but good tackling by our backs prevented a score. Close play in our 25 then took place, and one of Nudgee's backs broke through and scored. The try was converted amidst great applause from the Nudgee enthusiasts on the line. Ipswich had been taking it too easy but now with a few minutes to go and the scores so close, bucked in. From the kick off Ipswich followed on well and kept the ball in Nudgee territory. From mid-field the ball was circulated amongst our three-quarters and Warry, with a fine run, cut in and scored. Ipswich had still time for another one, and in the last few minutes Scott registered his second try as a result from a cross kick from Warry. Full time came with Ipswich winners by 14 to 9. Nudgee is undoubtedly the toughest proposition in the grade, but our combination and general play both in attack and defence was superior to theirs. The backs all played well, and of the forwards Burton, Hooper and Pardoe played good games.

BRISBANE GRAMMAR v. IPSWICH.

This match was also played on the University ground and resulted in a very easy win for us. The Ipswich forwards by good scrumming and lining out gave their backs every opportunity. The latter availed themselves of these, although the Brisbane five-eighth hampered them seriously at times. Our first score came from J. Foote, and this was converted by Fisher. Shortly after this our backs again combined well and a fine rush resulted in a score by Pettigrew in the corner; Fisher's kick missed. Ipswich kept the ball in Brisbane's 25, and from a scrum Foote B. worked the blind and Scott scored. Half-time blew with scores 11 nil in favour of Ipswich. The second half was decidedly ours. Ipswich backs were greatly superior in pace to Brisbane's and a marked improvement in handling the ball was noticed. As a result of clean passing the wings were given their chance. The first score of the second half came from Pettigrew; Fisher added the extras. Ipswich forwards kept the ball in opponent's ground, Hooper and Dunshea dribbling well. From a line out the ball again traversed the backs and Scott scored. George's kick from a difficult angle narrowly missed. Fisher kicked a penalty goal, bringing the score to 21. Our backs worked well during the second half; Scott at times, in trying for his corner, forgot until tackled that he had his men with him, and a few opportunities were missed. The next score was registered by Pettigrew; Fisher failed to add the extras. From a scrum in Brisbane's 25, Brisbane obtained the ball and found the line up field. Brisbane's forwards pressed and ruck work in which Burton and Pryce, a seconds' player, were noticeable, took place. J. Foote relieved with a good kick, and Ipswich again pressed. The backs, combining well, the ball travelled out to Pettigrew, and George, coming up, scored a good try in the corner. His kick was very close. Shortly after the ball again came out to Pettigrew; he ran strongly along the line then gave to Warry, who scored in the corner. This brought the total to 31, and full time blew, leaving us easy winners by 31 to nil.

SECOND XV. v. ST. LAWRENCE.

The Seconds were stronger than usual and defeated Saints by 12 to 3. For the winners Pacey scored twice, Cribb once, and Hunt once.

Seconds v. St. Lawrence: The first grade match played on 'Varsity Oval and resulted in a draw, 3 all. Try scored for us by Donaldson.

Seconds v. Nudgee A: Nudgee were a heavier team, but the game was even; won by Nudgee by 10 nil.

Seconds v. Brisbane Grammar: Played at Ipswich and won by Seconds by 3 nil. Woods, the full-back, scored after a good run.

Seconds v. B.G.S. "C.": Played on 'Varsity Oval as a preliminary to the fixtures. A good game resulted in a draw, neither side scoring.

TENNIS NOTES.

Owing to football taking up most of our Saturdays, we are unable to participate in the A Grade fixtures in Ipswich. Consequently, it is probable that the Chelmsford Cup matches will be our only matches. Of last year's four, two are back, Pettigrew and George. There promises to be keen competition for the remaining two places, which will most likely be filled by Hooper and Warry. Wednesday afternoon has been set aside for practice, and, with regular practice the team should be well in the Cup matches.

The team has payed the Girls' Grammar School several visits this year. In each case we have been victorious, after keen and enjoyable games. A town team visited us one Saturday afternoon, and at the conclusion of play we were several games to the bad.

The annual Chelmsford Cup match was played under ideal weather conditions on Brisbane Grammar School Turf. The School xi. journeyed to Brisbane in the morning, and play began about 10.30 a.m. Lawton won the toss from Barbour and elected to bat. Biggs and Hein opened for Brisbane, facing the bowling of Barbour and Pettigrew. After a few overs, the latter secured Hein's wicket with good length ball, and Darvall joined Biggs. These two soon raised the score and reached 66 and 46. Lawton proved hard to move, but was caught by Barbour when 34. Nothling and Boyce between them raised the score to over 200, and when an adjournment was made for lunch the former was within three of the century. He shortly after play was resumed, he retired l.b.w. to Barbour, without scoring another run. Boyce and Toms offered some resistance, reaching the forties before being dismissed. The innings closed for a total of 391 a large score, to equal which, we needed to make runs rapidly. This was not to be, however, for although McCulloch and Barbour opened successfully, making 22 and 38, and Hooper batted well for 32, our innings realised only 129. In bowling, for us, McCulloch secured the best average, 3 for 56, while Brown obtained most of the wickets for Brisbane with the good average of 8 for 56. There was time for only one innings each, and the match ended in a win for Brisbane by 262 runs.

I.G.S. v. T.G.S.

This Chelmsford Cup match was played on our own concrete in the last week of the school year. The visiting team arrived by the morning train, but, unfortunately, a heavy thunderstorm, passing over the town about 9 o'clock, completely ruined all hope of playing on the North Ipswich turf. After some little delay, play began about 12.15 p.m. on our own wicket. McCulloch won the toss from R. Barbour and opened for us in partnership with C. Barbour. The innings began disastrously, the latter putting his leg in front of Seaton in the first over, before scoring. Browne and Seaton quickly struck a perfect length and bowled unchanged throughout. By lunch time most of the team were dismissed for few runs, and on recommencement of play the remainder of the wickets soon fell, the innings closing for 43, of which McCulloch and Pardoe contributed 8 and 7 respectively. The bowling average fell to Seaton, who bowled splendidly, securing 6 for 7. Kent and Browne opened for Toowoomba and put up a stubborn resistance. Unfortunately, the latter had to retire, after making 26, and R. Barbour, joining Kent, was caught at point before reaching double figures. With six wickets down for 133, the innings was declared. Kent still remained unconquered having batted cautiously for 48, and Marshall carried his bat through with 12. Pardoe secured the bowling average for us, 3 for 25. With but a short time to go, Barbour and McCulloch again opened with more success, making 12 and 16 respectively before both were caught. At the call of time, six wickets were down for 60, our opponents being unsuccessful in an attempt to win by an innings, and the match ended in their favour.

1st XI. v. BLAIR'S C. C.

This match was one of the last played before the Christmas holidays, and resulted in a win for us. Blair, however, were unfortunate in not being able to make up a full team. Our first innings opened full of promise, Mr. Meyer and McCulloch batting in fine style, and the pair were not separated till the latter was one short of the half century. Mr. Meyer continued to punish the leather and was well on towards the century when he was caught near the boundary. Of the rest, George was the only one who secured double figures, and the innings closed uneventfully for 194. Blair's fell short of this by 91, Biddle, Walker, Male and Campbell being the chief compilers, each in the twenties. Mr. Meyer again scored freely in our second innings, securing 66 while McCulloch and Lindsay, 15 and 10, also got double figures.

1st XI. v. ALBERTS A.

The Alberts opened on a wicket softened by the usual weekly rain that has annoyed cricketers this season. Hodgens and Bradley soon got going, and the latter reached 24 before he was bowled by Warry. Shelley was soon dismissed, and L. Watson joined Hodgens, and the score soon mounted. Hodgens was well on towards his century when he was caught by Pardoe off Barbour for 83, and Watson was run out at 51. Russel made a stand for the tail and was not dismissed till he made 38, being run out. and the innings closed for a total of 247, having lasted all the afternoon. Warry with 2 for 23 securing the bowling average. Our innings did not yield more than 57, of which Mr. Meyer contributed 24, but no one else reached double figures. Following on we did much better, reaching 127. Foote batted splendidly for 37, and carried his bat through; Mr. Meyer and Pettigrew, 19 and 18 respectively, were next highest. For the Albert's Williamson bowled well in the first innings, securing the fine average of 6 for 18; in the second innings the average fell to Peel, 4 for 17, with Williamson next, 2 for 10. Thus the match was won by the Albert's by an innings and sixty odd runs.

1st XI. v. ALBERT'S B.

To keep up matches for all teams the Albert's advanced their B team a grade. Unfortunately the weather was again unfavourably, and heavy showers on Thursday and Friday spoilt the wicket. In this match we were without the services of both Mr. Meyer and Mr. Edwards. Albert's batted first, and despite the attempt of the ball to bury itself in the turf, Barbour and Pettigrew dismissed our opponents very cheaply for 36, the latter securing a fine average of 4 for 9. Our innings yielded more than twice the Albert's score. Fisher and Foote batting well for 20 apiece. In their second innings Alberts did but little better than in their first, being despatched for 57, Pettigrew again securing the average: 2 for 3.

1st XI. v. ALBERT'S A.

This match was the last of the grade matches played on North Ipswich Reserve. Unfortunately, the wicket was in a poor condition, proper attention to it being prevented by the regular rain which preceded every week. Albert's batted first and were very cheaply dismissed for 35, Bradley being the only one who secured double figures. Jones secured the remarkable average of 5 for 4, with Pettigrew next, 2 for 9. Our opponents were labouring under the disadvantage of playing short with several members of the lower grade team. Our innings was no better, but yielded just two more runs than the Albert's. Pettigrew 10, and George 13, secured double figures. while the bowling fell to Williamson, 6 for 17, and Von Lossberg 3 for 8. In their second innings the Albert's were more successful, and 105 was realised, of which Bradley made 36, carrying his bat right through the innings. The bowling average fell to Henderson, 2 for 8. With 104 required to win the match, we secured only half that number, 20 of which was made by Hooper; and the match ended in a win for Albert's by 51.

1st XI. v. GATTON COLLEGE.

For the first time a match was arranged with Gatton Agricultural College. The school team journeyed up by the morning train and was driven out to the College. After some refreshment, we were taken for a tour over the whole establishment, which was most interesting and instructive. Play began about 10.30. Barbour won the toss, and Pettigrew and George opened for us. Runs soon began to mount up, though both were lucky in being missed. The boundaries, however, were rather large, and it needed a good strong hit to score a four. Pettigrew was caught when he reached 35, and George was joined by Pardoe; the score continued to mount when the former was caught at 40. The remainder, except Hooper, 13, did not succeed in reaching double figures. In the bowling, the average fell to Hodges, 5 for 33. Dinner was served in the College dining-hall, and on recommencement of play, Astill and Brightwell opened for Gatton. Pettigrew and Barbour bowled well, and Hodges was the only one who made a stand, falling a victim to the latter on reaching 20. Brightwell also secured double figures, 10, and the innings closed for 58. Gatton again batted, but were not so successful in their second innings, being dismissed for 45. Williams, a brother of C. Williams, a member of the school team in 1915, batted well for 23, but no one else reached double figures. Barbour secured the fine averages of 6 for 18, and 4 for 3. Afternoon tea was served on the field, and tea in the dining-room prior to our departure to catch the evening train.

1st XI. v. SOUTHPORT H.S.

To play the return match with Southport, the school journeyed to the seaside town on Friday afternoon, 30th March. The night was spent comfortably at the Pacific Hotel, and after an early morning swim and breakfast, the team motored out to the school. Barbour won the toss from Reid, and play began about 9.30. Pettigrew and George opened for Ipswich, and the score soon mounted. On reaching that fatal number, 13, the latter fell a victim to Blacklock, and Barbour joined Pettigrew. Between them, they steadily raised the score till Pettigrew unfortunately put his leg in front of Blacklock, after making the quarter century. Barbour fell to the same bowler on reaching 32, and the remainder of the team did not reach double figures. Our innings, which opened full of promise, closed uneventfully for 90, nine wickets for 45 falling to Blacklock, who bowled splendidly throughout the innings, though Skinner secured the average, 1 for 1. Reid and Skinner opened successfully for Southport, and the score reached 48 before the latter was bowled by Pardoe, after making two-thirds of the runs. Reid shortly after was dismissed l.b.w. to Jones, and the remainder of the wickets fell in a short time, and the total lacked 13 to equal ours. For us, Jones secured the average, 3 for 10, with Pardoe close behind, 4 for 23. With less than an hour to go, Pettigrew and George again opened for Ipswich. and when stumps were drawn three wickets were down for 74, of which Fisher compiled 24, and Barbour 17, both carrying their bats through. George was more successful this time, securing 18. After afternoon tea the team motored back in time to catch the afternoon train.

PAST v. PRESENT GRAMMARS.

The annual match with the Old Boys was played on our wicket on St. Patrick's Day. Though rain fell the night before and spoilt the approach to the wicket, fine weather prevailed on the day. As the Past were awaiting of the two Cossarts, they took the field and Mr. Meyer and Pettigrew opened for the school. The latter was caught by Ward off Dalton after scoring a single one, and of the remainder only Warry, 17, and Foote 18, reached double figures. Mr. Meyer again made the score for us, and was well set when unfortunately caught by Hoge. Our innings closed for 103, of which 30 were sundries. Dalton secured the fine average of 5 for 19, with Harding close behind, 3 for 13. Reinforced by the Cossart brothers, who arrived just before dinner, the Presents opened their innings in the afternoon. Barbour, however, quickly found his length, and bowled splendidly throughout the whole innings, wickets falling rapidly before his deadly balls. C. Cossart batted cautiously for 37, and was the only one who made a stand, contributing more than half the total of the innings. For the Presents, Barbour secured nine wickets for 23, but the average fell to Pettigrew, 1 for 1. Dinner and afternoon tea were served up in the school dining-room.

CRICKET CHARACTERS.

McCulloch (captain before Christmas).—A fine all-round player; with a little patience, would have made more runs; bowls a nice leg break; excellent fieldsman.

Barbour (captain after Christmas).—Also a fine all-round player. When going, a brilliant, punishing batsman; a very good bowler and fine field.

Pettigrew.—An aggressive rather than patient batsman; very effective when set; reliable bowler of the medium-fast type.

George.—Sound left-hand batsman, with some nice wristy strokes. With more enterprise and confidence, should make plenty of runs; improved wicket-keeper.

Fisher.—Has not many strokes, but is a consistent batsman. Not as strong on leg side as most left-handers. Reliable field.

Pardoe.—Has some good punishing strokes. A few more defensive strokes would make him a hard batsman to get rid of. Fair change bowler and good field.

Hooper.—Reliable run-getter; has tendency to play back too much; should make a lot of runs next season; fields well.

Warry.—A forceful batsman with a tendency to "have a go at them." Fair change bowler and reliable field.

A. J. Foote.—An improved batsman, who can hit the ball clean and hard; should do well next season. Fields well.

Johnstone.—Promising batsman and very keen; good sound strokes and fair defence; keen in field.

Macartney.—Very fair defensive batsman; needs energy and enterprise, especially in the field.

Easton.—A promising all-round player; enterprising batsman and bowler.

Burton.—Keen player, who should improve greatly next season.

Henderson.—Has improved but should be more forceful in matches and cultivate fielding.

Jones.—Good all-round player; an acquisition to the Firsts; enterprising batsman and good length bowler.

Dunshiea.—Shows promise of considerable improvement; good style.

Warren.—Keen player; fairly sound batsman and reliable change bowler.

Lindsay.—Has an awkward style; but fairly effective batsman; fair wicket-keeper.

CRICKET RETROSPECT.

The effect of the war on Ipswich cricket made itself more severely felt this last season. In the first half, before Christmas, town teams raised a full complement with difficulty, and the flame of competition began to grow dim. At the beginning of this year matters were worse, and the dying flame was almost extinguished. Gradually all the "A" grade teams withdrew, until Alberts and ourselves were left. Similarly in "B" grade teams did not turn up, and our seconds went without a match several times. To better the situation, Alberts entered another team in "A" grade, and we put out a team of thirteen players in "B." Yet interest in cricket was steadily dying out when three most successful matches were arranged with us.

The first was with Southport High School, who visited us and played on the North Ipswich Reserve; the second with Gatton Agricultural College on the College wicket; and the third a return match with Southport. In all three our team was successful, though Southport put up a good fight with a team of splendid fielders.

A glance at the averages shows the predominance of Barbour and Pettigrew with the ball, though Jones, who came on at the end of the season, secured the best average. Mr. Meyer stands out alone in batting while most of the members of the team are on an almost even standing. We have, unfortunately, lost Barbour, who captained the team in the latter part of the season, and whom we will miss in the coming one.

Again no practice turf wicket was available, and we were greatly handicapped by playing on turf and practising on concrete. Two new turf wickets, however, are now being laid down, in a corner of the sports field, through the kindness of the Old Boys, and will be ready for use for next season.

Two teams were entered in the State School competition, and the Thirds B proved a very strong team, not only easily winning the premiership, but also being undefeated throughout the season.

 Unfortunately the new Scholarship System which reduces the period from three to two years, will greatly interfere with the sporting side of school life, and much of the good material in these junior teams will pass out of the school again before reaching the First xi.

"UNIVERSITY LETTER."

St. Andrew's College,
 University of Sydney,
 May 31st, 1917.

To the Editor of the I.G.S. Magazine.

Dear Sir,—

At your request I have attempted to compose myself for a short while in order to be in a position to produce a University letter for June issue of the School Magazine. The request itself took me back some seven years past, when I was working hard (?) for the Senior within the walls of the dear old School. The second generation of boys since those august times now possess her halls, so I urge this as an excuse if I misuse the privilege now placed in my hands and serve up to you a dry hash unappreciated by your readers.

I understand Wilson wrote for your last issue and attempted to convey some impressions of life at the Sydney 'Varsity. He spoke of the large number of students, this year even higher than last—145 freshers entering Medicine alone—of the numerous buildings and the glory of the architecture of some of them, and of the University Union, and what it stands for in our social life. It is a pity he is not writing for you now, for he would have many things to refer to along all these lines. This year will see the completion of the joining up of the Fisher Library with the main University building. This connection constitutes with the Fisher one side of the University Quadrangle, of which more than two sides are now completed. In it is situated the main entrance to the University facing the Medical School, and on completion will form a beautiful piece of work enhanced by the terraces and flights of stone steps leading up to it. The old women's common room has been demolished, and in its stead a brick and stone building called Manning House has been erected on the top of the building for the men—the University Union. This year will also see the opening in Third Term of the new Wesley College, which, although constructed of brick and stone combined, already gives promise of being a fine structure when completed. The Teachers' Training College is also under construction, so that the face of the University is constantly altering in appearance.

And if one were to dilate upon our social life what could not be said of the various Societies of Medicine, Law, Science, Engineering, and so forth, all of which are in a prosperous condition? In the Union some time since the Undergrads' Reunion eventuated, at which about 600 men were present. Unfortunately, it was probably more noisy than successful, but they met together, and songs were sung, and some speeches (?) were made. The widening of the women's domain—in their new building—should greatly increase the scope of their activities, and their influence on the corporate University life. This patriotic Fete is becoming an Annual affair now that people are settling down to the war as being one of the ordinary everyday things of life. This year they are to make a "big splash" in the form of a Garden Carnival or some such like on the Oval.

The sporting life has "bucked up" considerably, largely owing to the fact that although there are no actual Intercollegiate Cup contests, the College men can nevertheless, win their college blazers by representing their "Alma Mater." Andrews came to the fore in the Oval events largely owing to the success of a Brisbane Grammar and Queensland 'Varsity man, K. B. Fraser. Foote is enthusiastic in football, and Wilson does his share. Andrews also won the Freshers's Fours in the Rowing competitions this year. From this you will have judged we are a joyful crew in College, and so we should, as compared with some thirty odd last year, we now have 54 men in residence. We had a record number of freshers who have been scrupulously initiated into the mysteries of College life. The life in College has been more vigorous and healthy—which augurs well for the future.

But we haven't a very large body of Ipswich men down here. I fear that Queensland 'Varsity and other professions are taking them all. On the other hand, quite a number of Brisbane and Toowoomba boys are here making good, too. Foote is prosecuting Dentistry II. with large intent, and Roy Wilson, Medicine III. After the good old custom, Med. III. had its photo taken, and it shows their number to be 120. This will give you some idea of the Student life in a large University like this, when you consider how a man's personality must be sunk since he is merely a unit in a large community, and how necessarily on the other hand, patriotism and the capacity for team work those qualities so admirable and necessary must correspondingly be developed.

The only other member of the trinity, and we are all in Andrew's, is my humble self, and if the "Dei immortales" are favourable, August should see me through the portals of this temple of learning, and out to the great struggle, provided it still continues; and, coming so nearly to the end of one's course makes one more sad than happy, for the old ties will have to be severed, and strange new relationships investigated and formed. But the traditions of the old school and the University and of College will always live for us, and the days we have spent in each, form our brightest and happiest memories.—I am, your sincerely,

RAYMOND A. DART.

JUNIOR CADETS.

The close of this month marks another stage in the Military Training of thirty-one of our boys, who then enter upon their training as Senior Cadets.

We commence the second year of Junior Cadet Training with a squad of sixteen.

At the Annual Inspection by Captain Martin, of the Physical Training Instructional Staff, last month, all were classed as "Efficient" in Squad Drill, Physical Training, Organised Games, and Miniature Rifle Shooting.

OLD BOYS' COLUMN.

Hon. Secretary: MR. ROY C. WARD, A.B.C. Bank, Ipswich.

The Old Boys' Association has not been holding its usual social functions for some time past. But this is not to be taken as a sign of want of interest amongst its members. There have been several meetings of the Council; these have been well attended, and much enthusiasm still exists.

The Honour Roll was unveiled at the Speech Day function, and contains 150 names, to which a large number have to be added. It will be necessary, very soon, to erect another Board.

The Association has also undertaken another very admirable piece of work on behalf of the school. It will be remembered that more than £100 was subscribed some few years ago for the improvement of the Sports Ground. A portion of this money is now being spent in laying down a pair of practice turf wickets in the South West corner of the Cricket Ground. These will be ready for next Cricket season and should prove of great help in the training of good players.

The Annual Dinner is to take place at the usual time, the last Wednesday of July. It is hoped that there will be a good muster of those who still have feelings of loyalty and love to the old school. This is no mere "jollification," which would be unseemly at this time when wounds and death have made so much sorrow and anxiety. Rather would we do honour to our brave men who are fighting for us, and to our glorious dead. Let us all make a point of being present.

W. E. LANE (BILL), writes from "Somewhere at Sea."—

"10th February, 1917. I promised to drop you a line as soon as I could. This is the fulfilment of the promise.

"We are all having a good time so far, but we have not struck any rough weather as yet. Some of the men have been sea-sick, but only in a mild form; I have not had the slightest symptoms. Our vaccination makes us feel a bit sick, but we shall soon get over that.

There are a good many Ipswich boys amongst us, including R. Pittock. I am not sorry we came so soon, as we are in with such a fine lot of fellows. Remember me to the boys, and the Masters, and tell them that I was very sorry not to say good-bye to them all."

We were all very surprised when Bill came to say good-bye; that was the first we heard of his enlistment. Our best wishes go with him.

CECIL GERMAIN (entered school 1910), writes from "In the Field," 26/1/'17":—In perusing a copy of the "Queensland Times" to-day, I was much interested in reading the account of "Speech Day" at the old school. I have met quite a number of Old Boys over here after the evacuation of Gallipoli, when all the Australian troops were re-organising in Egypt. Some of them, alas, have answered the last call.

The dear old school has won a few distinctions too, of which we may be proud—such men as Major Butler, D.S.O.; Major P. J. Savage, and Lieutenant Trevor Francis. At present we Light Horsemen are in the Sinai Peninsula. My regiment, unfortunately, has not been taking part in the El Arish operations, being engaged in patrol work elsewhere. However, the regiment did good work at Romani. It was during that scrap that Lieutenant Hunter did such good work. He was always the first to get his troops into action, and all of us think the world of him. Please remember me to all my former masters. I wish the school and yourself the best of success.

IVOR WILSON.

Many Old Grammarians of about 1910, will remember Ivor Wilson. It will be remembered that he was disabled in a railway accident in Egypt and lost both his legs. This was to all his friends a source of keen regret and deep sympathy; but we are also proud that Ivor's pluck and grit have carried him through his suffering and left him as full of spirit as ever. Here is the way he writes:—

No. 3 London General Hospital,
4th February, 1917.

My dear Mr. Kerr,—

I was very pleased to receive your letter, and appreciate your kind expressions. It was certainly very galling to me at first to think I had left the Regiment after eighteen months' service, with only one break of four weeks in September 15. And then to leave from the cause of an unfortunate accident.

We had had much active work for a few months preceding, and my luck was always of the best. However, it's over now, and I was fortunate in getting off so well. The authorities here say I can easily be fixed up, the results are beyond their best hopes and in my case they expect to turn out a first-class "walker." You perhaps remember I won the walk at the sports one year. I don't propose though to take on any of your walking experts.

I was very interested in the school news. You certainly have a large family, and the day boys seem to be on the increase. Of course the chief improvement is on the other point, that of the Junior Examination. With regard to the one other side of the school I am very glad to hear that the total enlistments among the Old Boys have been so good.

Frank Phillips, Wilkinson, and Archie Wilson were with our Field Ambulance. I often saw them. "Sprit" Morgan was also in that unit, but was invalided to England from Gallipoli. There are many others I have heard of, but had no idea the number was so large.

I must ask you not to expect any accounts of our doings from me. While on Gallipoli we read in the papers many letters, which, unfortunately, were not quite true, and among them some from our own regiment. There has been a general feeling since that those who know of it put all in the same "boat," and we, therefore, decided not to join the "war correspondents." They have often told me from home that I don't tell much of the doings. However, I hope to visit you at the school before very long.—With kindest regards,

Yours very sincerely,

IVOR M. WILSON.

Eric Francis was wounded, as reported in last issue. We have received several interesting letters from him since, from which the following are extracts:—

Goodrich Court, Ross, Herefordshire, 15/10/'16.—"You know that Trevor and I have been wounded, and that Trevor won the Military Cross—another honour for the school. I suppose you know that Percy J. Savage was awarded the D.S.O.

"I got wounded very early in my fighting career. I joined the 15th Battalion on the 14th August. After marching around France a bit we went into action at Mouquet Farm, near Thiepval, on the night of August 6th. I had just reached to within 50 yards of the front line, when a shell came over, a high explosive, and killed five outright and wounded 12, including myself. My shoulder wound was worst. It is perfectly healed now, although a piece of metal is still in. Trevor's arm is O.K. He got a letter from Bert Mellor the other day. Bert is still in France on engineering work, well back from the line just now.

It is a terrible place—the firing line. The sight is beautiful, with the shells bursting and the star shells and lights making almost daylight. The sight of the dead from "my" shell will never leave me. One was a boy whom I knew, named Patterson, who enlisted as a present boy from B.G.S.

"Codford," England, 1/4/17.—You cannot imagine how pleased I was to receive your letter. I had just returned from four days leave in Ilfracombe, perhaps the prettiest place on the Devonshire coast. It was magnificent. I took several photos which I shall show you on my return. I had a very sad ending to the holiday, for on my final day, I opened the paper quite casually, and saw poor old Trevor's name amongst the killed.

I hope you were satisfied with the senior results. I am glad to see that McCulloch scored, for he must have done good work for the school during his final year. I hope to hear of good results from the Junior.

I had heard some time ago from several sources, of the late Matron's engagement. Very best of luck to them both.

I wish I were the resident master and back in Ipswich again—Kindest regards and best wishes for the school's success."

"London, 5/13/'17.—I am at present attending a school of instruction at Chelsea Barracks, the home of the Grenadier Guards. It is a fine sight to see the Guards march out every day, led by a band of 65 instruments. I have still a week to go at the school, after which I go back to Salisbury Plain." $\frac{1}{4}$ $\frac{1}{4}$

"W. H. Bryan, France, 15/10/'16.—I was delighted to receive a copy of the school magazine a few days ago. The Roll of Honour at the end will help me greatly in finding old friends. Roy Caston, who is my corporal, and I spent a very happy evening going through the list, talking over old days, and exchanging reminiscences.

I have played against "Shirty" Foote in several "Rugger" matches here. Very best luck to the old school."

We wish to congratulate Bryan on his receiving a commission, and subsequently the second star.

ROY C. CASTON.—The news has reached us that Roy Caston has been awarded the Military Medal for bravery on the field. Congratulations.

THIS IS THE LAST LETTER WE RECEIVED FROM TREVOR FRANCIS.

"Somewhere in France,"
9/12/1916.

Dear Mr. Kerr,—

I received your letter of 20th August yesterday. I cannot tell you how pleased I am to hear that you and Mrs. Kerr are still well (which I hope will always be the case), and that the old school is doing so well in its numbers. An increasing roll is surely the best sign that its records are equal to any of its rivals.

It is a very strange thing that I have never received a magazine either from the school or University, although I have had sent to me dozens, all told. Perhaps they will turn up some day.

I have been promoted to the rank of Captain, which makes the thing more interesting.

We have had a fall of snow and it brought the winter home to us very forcibly.

I am in a New South Wales battalion and consequently meet our old boys by chance only.

While I was in England I had a very fine time, and visited a good few of the main sights of London, Hereford and Chester.

The people were very kind to me, and I could have spent six months visiting if I had the time to accept the invitations. I have a very nice letter from Scotland asking me up there on leave. This won't come for at least two months, and in the meantime anything can happen.

Of our position I can say nothing because we are in a place of importance. I am well at present. Please remember me to Mrs. Kerr.—I am, an old student.

TREVOR.

TREVOR FRANCIS.

The name of Trevor Francis has often been on the lips of Grammar School boys of the last 8 or 9 years. Many a time have we watched breathlessly, while he ran the 440 or the half-mile, or the mile, and seldom were we disappointed with the result. His fine physique, his splendid sportsmanship, his high public spirit, his earnest, honest manliness will always be a treasured memory to his masters and his friends.

His career at school lasted from July, 1908, till December, 1911. In 1910 he passed the Junior, and in 1911 the Senior and Matriculation. In 1912 he entered the University, and his course was still unfinished when he enlisted.

In Athletic Sports Trevor Francis had few equals. He was repeatedly school champion, then later University champion; he held records for 440 and 880 yards. He represented Queensland in the international sports in New Zealand and came second in the half-mile against all Australasia.

No one was surprised to learn that Lieutenant T. Francis was a very fine soldier. We were pleased and proud, but not surprised when he earned distinction and promotion. He left Queensland on 29th August, 1915, with the 10th Battalion, though he had first enlisted in the Light Horse. When the Big Push was expected in France, he applied for transfer and was sent with the 53rd Battalion. At Posieres, though wounded, Lieutenant Francis led his Platoon, and captured the second line trenches; the supports failing to make good, he lost all his men, but subsequently regained his own lines. For gallantry on this occasion he was promoted to First Lieutenant, and received the Military Cross. In the November Push he gained a new bar to the Cross, and a Captaincy for brilliant service. Until the occasion of his death, he was in almost every action with the Australians, and was always conspicuous. He fell in battle on the 11th March, 1917.

General sympathy was felt with the bereaved family. Their loss is greater than ours. Our country is losing many of its best and brightest; the tragedy of it is dreadful; but after all,

For the ashes of his Fathers and the Temples of his gods?"

One cannot help allowing pride to overcome sorrow. Surely his twenty-six short years were worth living, and he did not die in vain.

John H. Lilley writes to Mrs. J. C. Ward, Ipswich:—"It is with the deepest regret that I write the following, but know that you would be glad to hear what few details I know about Cyril (Lieutenant Cyril C. Ward). On the night of March 1 we attacked a certain German trench. Cyril was lieutenant in command of his company. His company commander (Captain A. O. Woods) was wounded early in the attack, and Cyril carried on, leading his men into the Hun trench, capturing and consolidating it. A number of prisoners were also taken. By this time Cyril was the only officer left with his company. His work throughout was excellent. A few days later we returned from a bit of a rest to hold the same line, and did so for a day or so with practically no casualties. Half an hour before we were relieved (on the 6th) a shell knocked Cyril and five other men. Fragments of the shell struck him in three places. Major Robinson and I saw Cyril at an aid post. He was conscious and cheerful, and said, 'Hullo. I've had a bit of a crack.' Our medical officer (who is a real good chap) told me afterwards that his skull was not fractured, and that his spine was not injured. Consequently I was expecting to hear any day that Cyril was in England, doing well, and being well looked after. When we came right back I got into touch with the field ambulance to see if I could get any further news. They rang up the casualty station at the railhead, which replied that Lieutenant C. C. Ward has died there of shock. I will endeavour to get over to the C.C. station at the first opportunity, and get any further details that are obtainable. All the men in Cyril's company speak of the cool, splendid way he worked in the attack, and later in consolidating, and I believe he was most highly recommended for the work he did. Cyril's death will be a great loss to the battalion, and even more to his special friends. On March 18 Claud

Lloyd and I rode over to the casualty station at the railhead to see if we could get any further details about Cyril. We found that Cyril had died in the First South Midland Clearing Hospital on the morning of March 8, about 10 o'clock. We saw Sister Lyle, who had attended him. She stated that Cyril arrived there early on the morning of March 7. He was very cold, and collapsed. One wound had penetrated the lung, another the abdomen, and there was a head wound. Although everything possible was done for him he would not react. The surgeons would have operated, but owing to the state of his pulse it was impossible. He was a good patient, and always had a smile ready. When he saw other patients being got ready for the hospital train he asked, 'Will I be sent to the base to-day?' An hour after this he dozed off to sleep, from which he never awakened. He is buried in the hospital cemetery, which is alongside the French civilian cemetery at Dernancourt, about three miles south-west of Albert. At present there is a little wooden cross erected, but other arrangements will be made as soon as we get right out of the line. Well, Mrs. Ward, to try to express one's feelings is impossible, but we have lost one of the finest chaps who ever breathed.'

Vic. Bottomley and George Allen have returned wounded. We are glad to see them looking well again after their trying experience.

The tablet, which was placed by the Old Boys on the Southern wall of the big school room, was unveiled by His Excellency the Governor on Speech Day. The workmanship is good, the design is chaste and appropriate; altogether the memorial is worthy of the purpose of perpetuating the memory of a splendid man; his name will always be on the walls of the school, as his life work will always live in its tradition and good tone. The inscription reads—

‘‘IN MEMORY

DONALD CAMERON, M.A.,

HEADMASTER OF THIS SCHOOL, 1875—1900.

Vir Benignus, Tenax Propositi Antiqua Virtute Ac Fide. Vira Ejus Posteris Transeat in Exemplum.’

No man could wish for a better summing up of his own life than these words. That they have been used in all sincerity of Mr. Cameron is the best testimony to his character. He was, indeed, kind though steadfast; his was a virtue and a faith of the good old fashioned kind; may his life become an example to all who follow him within these walls!
